CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you, the good people of Appomattox and surrounding areas, for all the acts of kindness bestowed upon me in the past year, during my stay in the hospital. It's hard to stay in for such a long period of time but your thoughtfullness and your prayers have made it much easier for me. I do appreciate all the nice cards, gifts, and visits I received during the Christmas holidays. It really did make my Christmas brighter. I would love to thank each individual personally, but I couldn't possibly do it, so I'll take this opportunity to thank you one and all. May God bless each of you in the new year.

James Hall.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Lillie C. Drinkard, who died January 10, 1954.

Three years have passed, dear mother,
Since God called you home;
To be with Him in heaven,
Around His snow-white throne.
Your memory to us is a keepsake
With which we shall never part,
Though God has you in His keeping
We still have you in our hearts.
Someday we hope to meet her,
Someday, we know not when,
To clasp her hand in a better land,
Never to part any more.

Her Children.

FARM NEWS

By J. A. Smith, County Agent

Farm management becomes more complicated each year, with changes in tax and social security laws. We are advised that in previous years, farmers who had not filed a tax return by February 15, were not penalized. However, this year it will be different—penalties will be applied. We suggest you get your records together and file your returns early.

If hired labor was employed and they earned $100.00 or more, the employer must file form 943 by January 31st. This form may be secured from the District Director of Internal Revenue, Richmond, Va.

Until 1957, farmers have been paying 2% of earnings and workers 2% for social security purposes. This figure was increased as of January 1st, 1957, and the cost now, will be 2¼% for each party.

Records are important to the person filing tax returns. Many keep information on calendars or in shoe boxes. Receipts and bills can become misplaced quite easily when filed in this manner. Farm account record books are available at no charge from the county agent's office.

Depreciation schedules of tools, machinery, buildings, and equipment are important to those who file income tax returns or self-employment tax tax returns (social security). We recommend your using a ten-year inventory record which is available for $.30 from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., or from the county agent's office.

Mrs. Heston's 4-H Club

Mrs. Heston's 4-H Club held its fifth meeting January 8, 1957. We said the 4-H pledge and the secretary read the minutes and they were approved. For old business, there was a discussion of achievement day. We elected a new vice president, Calvin Ferguson, cause our vice-president has moved. Medals were awarded to Winifred Nash for being the most outstanding member of the club last year, and J. W. Weeks for meat animals. Mr. Smith gave a demonstration on pruning shrubs.

Tie-back curtains will be the same height on each window if you pull your shade to the desired height and then adjust the tiebacks.

Here's a hint for the woman who dreads to clean her machines for fear she won't get all the screws and bolts and tiny parts back in their proper place. Lay each part on the sticky side of a length of "freezer" or other type of adhesive tape as you remove it. When cleaned, put each part back in its proper place.

If you're using textile paint, you want to be as economical with it as possible. Save the tops from soft drink bottles. These can be used to hold small amounts of different colors. They can be disposed of easily or replaced without difficulty.

LATEST FASHION

Stay stitching is an important part of construction for home sewers. It is recommended by almost all pattern companies, the term refers to a line of regular machine stitching done through the single layer of material one-half inch inside the seam allowance of a garment section.

Matching thread and an ordinary length of stitch ten to fifteen stitches to the inch are used for stay stitching.

It is done wherever the cutting line is off grain on curved and shaped edges, slanted shoulder lines, the neckline opening, and armholes. The underarm seams of a bodice also need a line of stay-stitching. So does the waistline of a skirt, especially if it is a circular skirt.

Some experts like a row of stay stitching on the side seams of a skirt for from seven to nine inches down. It should go far enough to take care of the hip curve.

Stay stitching prevents a garment section from stretching out of shape as you work on it. It is a big help to a well-styled garment. Without it, there is apt to be a poor fit.

The stitching should be done from the widest part of the garment piece to the narrowest. Thus, it goes from shoulder to the center front on the neckline, from shoulder to underarm at the arm hole, and from underarm to waistline on the bodice.

You should always handle your garment as little as possible during the making to be sure of a fresh, new look. You will notice how easy-stitched sections seem to have more body.

When choosing a pattern, find a style you are sure will be becoming. If necessary, try on a ready-made dress with similar lines. If you're just beginning to sew—don't buy costly fabric, and don't try a pattern with odd and unusual neckline or draped skirt.

Health and Beauty

Care and Training of Children

Children have delicate nervous systems. Do not give them tea, coffee, and cola drinks. Such drinks are too stimulating for them and are not only to blame for the restlessness and sleeplessness of the child but for his not drinking his milk which is so essential to his welfare.

Doctors are plagued by the mothers asking what to do about the finicky child who will not eat at meal time. Remember that children who are properly nourished and trained from infancy are seldom fussy about their food and parents are often to blame if they are.

If the parents won't eat certain wholesome, nutritious foods and make their likes and dislikes a topic of conversation at the table in the presence of the children, the children follow in their footsteps. Children are very imitative.

Meal time should be one of the pleasantest hours of the day. If children are scolded, threatened or frightened at meal times, it will take away their appetites, or if they eat under such circumstances, indigestion will be almost sure to follow.

Let meals be served at regular intervals. Ring a warning bell that means that the children must wash their hands and get ready to come to the table.

Do not feed a child on nicknacks and sweets between meals. That is a sure way to spoil his appetite and prevent him from eating plain substantial food - with the result that he is pale, anemic and undernourished.

When a child is hungry and asks for something to eat between meals, offer him whole wheat bread and butter or milk and bread and fruits —all wholesome between - meal foods. If children refuse them, they are not hungry and should do without eating until meal time.

Constipation in children can usually be traced to a diet that is not drinking enough water. Every one requires plenty of water and you should make sure that the children sufficiently laxative and to not drink it between meals.

Many persons have had health fastened upon them for life because their mothers gave them drugs for constipation instead of the right diet.

The 9-passenger Country Squire
The 6-passenger Country Sedan
The 9-passenger Country Seden
The Del Rio Ranch Wagon
The Ranch Wagon

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons
long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V-8 power!—proved-in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon. This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the last word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon-life at its best.
